FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Stay Safe This Harvest Season

The harvest season is here! And while that means putting a spotlight on grain bin safety, it's also important to remember that harvest safety extends beyond the farmyard.

That includes farm equipment operators and motorists safely sharing the road.

It's crucial to take care whenever driving on rural roads, but that's especially important during the harvest season. With combines and other oversized harvesting equipment on roadways this time of year we all need to remember to do our part to safely share the road, no matter what we're driving.

Let's all help ensure everyone has a safe harvest season. For more information about farm and grain safety, visit casa-acsa.ca/BeGrainSafe.
