Teach your Way: Open Source Ag Health and Safety Curriculum

AgriSafe offers Invest in Your Health Trainer Exchanges where educators can be certified to train on five agricultural health and safety modules (targeted for ages 16-23). AgriSafe provides the course instruction and training materials. Invest in Your Health (IYH) consists of five training modules crafted for the agriculture teacher and community leader to seamlessly integrate in their course offerings. IYH training modules aim to educate, prevent and protect young farmers by providing them with the tools they need to stay safe and healthy.

The training topics included:

1. Say What? Protecting your Hearing
2. Cover Up! Head to Toe Personal Protective Equipment
3. Stay Cool! Prevention of Heat Related Illness
4. Stop Zoonosis it its Tracks- Prevention of Zoonosis
5. Where Y'at-Using Mapping to Define Hazards in Agriculture

AgriSafe is committed to train safety and health professionals who wish to teach IYH trainings in their classroom. Under our open share platform, once certified, you are free to use the training materials. Our end goal is to build the capacity of rural educators and leaders to train young workers.
